FOREWORD

The Class of '57 is very happy that you have accepted its invitation to go Tramping Forward through this year of school life. You will have the pleasure of walking with our good friend, the "Tramp;" talking with the administration and the faculty; noting the underclassmen activities and achievements; witnessing the various sports events, plays, and programs; and finally, seeing the seniors at work and at play. Since this is our farewell gesture, we want to leave behind, as a reminder, this record in story and in pictures. May your journey be as pleasant as ours has been.

ADMINISTRATION

AND FACULTY

Mr. Dan B. Kulp, B. S., M. A.
Supervising Principal
Red Lion Area School

Mr. Kulp has served for thirteen years as Red Lion's supervising principal. Even though his numerous duties at the many other area schools keep him very busy, Mr. Kulp finds time to remain active in the life of Red Lion Area High School. With the plans for the new senior high building nearing completion, he will be doing much more than supervising instruction. In fact, it may even affect his many fishing expeditions. Mr. Kulp meets with the Red Lion board and the area board assisting them in selecting teachers, financing the school, and maintaining school property.

Mr. Edgar C. Moore, B. S.
Principal
Red Lion Area High School

Mr. Moore became principal of Red Lion Area High School in 1946. Previous to that time, he was a teacher in the mathematics department of both junior and senior high and perhaps holds the record for "number of faithful years in service." He it is who greets everyone each new day with a friendly "good morning" upon entering the office, even when he is confronted with a host of absentees in quest of excuse blanks. Mr. Moore shows an interest in the students' achievements during their school career and has a way of keeping in touch with them even after graduation.

An Active Administrative Staff

INDISPENSABLE to R. L. A. H. S. is the office force of three alumnae: Mrs. Jeannette Trout, Miss Norma Herbst and Mrs. Arlene Gilbert.

HOOKEY PLAYERS, BEWARE! No one gets by Mrs. Gilbert and Mr. Moore "the morning after" without undergoing careful scrutinizing and without having a legitimate excuse for the absence.

The FACULTY, with many diversified interests, consists of seventeen women and twenty-three men of which eight are Red Lion High School alumni. A number of them have had quite a few years of teaching experience; others have graduated recently from college. The most important task allotted to these people is broadening the minds of the students and guiding them in their daily activities. Considering everything, the faculty is truly the backbone of the school.

SECURING INFORMATION about their Senior subjects are Gary Test and Yvonne Warner; or is Mr. Frits enjoying one of his many jokes?

WHAT POSITIONS! Charles Mitzel and Christopher Keener, two of our custodians, diligently work at painting a wheelbarrow. Right: BUSY CAFETERIA WORKERS halt the preparation of lunch to oblige the photographers. From Left: Mrs. Agnes Kunkle, Mrs. Gladys Smeltzer, Mrs. Effie Kunkle, Mrs. Alma Smith, Mrs. Grace Smith, and Mrs. Ida Stabley.

... Helping to Provide for Our Welfare

Hats off to our second line of defense—the CUSTODIANS who maintain the grounds and buildings, and the CAFETERIA WORKERS who provide the noontime nourishment for over three hundred students and teachers.

WET MOP, dry brush—no matter; there comes a time-out period once in a while for the night custodian, Harold Tome.

“CHRIS” TAKES A BREATH, while the idea of getting pictures taken doesn’t bother Cletus Mitzel and James Waltameyer, school custodians.

"ON THE WATERFRONT"—Stopping for a refreshing drink before resuming classes are the seventh grade officers: Dana Grove, president; Sara Lachman, secretary; William Sechrist, vice-president; and Charles Horn, treasurer

Four hundred eleven JUNIOR HIGH students are brimming over with enthusiasm for all school projects that are presented to them. These are the first years for competition in intramural sports, home room Christmas decorations, and the West York pep rally. It is also the first time for some of them to see their names on the honor roll. The boys are learning about tools in the shop, and the girls are getting equally valuable training in home economics. The activities for these lively lions include the junior high football team, cheerleading squad, glee club, and the band. Everyone is thinking of his future vocation and is talking about the course he will pursue. Senior high isn't too far away.

SHARING an amusing secret are these smiling sophomore officers: La Dawn Fix, treasurer; Sue Mitzel, secretary; Dale Smith, president; and Dwight Grove, vice-president.

This is it . . . SENIOR HIGH! Decisions are made—sophomores and juniors alike find schedules more rigid, subjects a little more difficult, and, of course, extra curricular activities more varied. The first big challenge for the juniors is probably the National Honor Society. There is competition among senior high homerooms in the intramural program, and the gals start racking up points for their “RL” letters in GAA. Both classes supply valuable athletes in the sports program, and their musical talent is outstanding. St. Valentine’s Dance and the Junior-Senior Prom are the social events of the year. Hats off to the sophomores and juniors. Best of luck in the coming years.

FUTURE EINSTEINS—Jean Conn, Rodney Sechrist, Dean Heffner, and JoAnn Haines are using the long and short methods of determining specific gravity in an eleventh grade physics class.

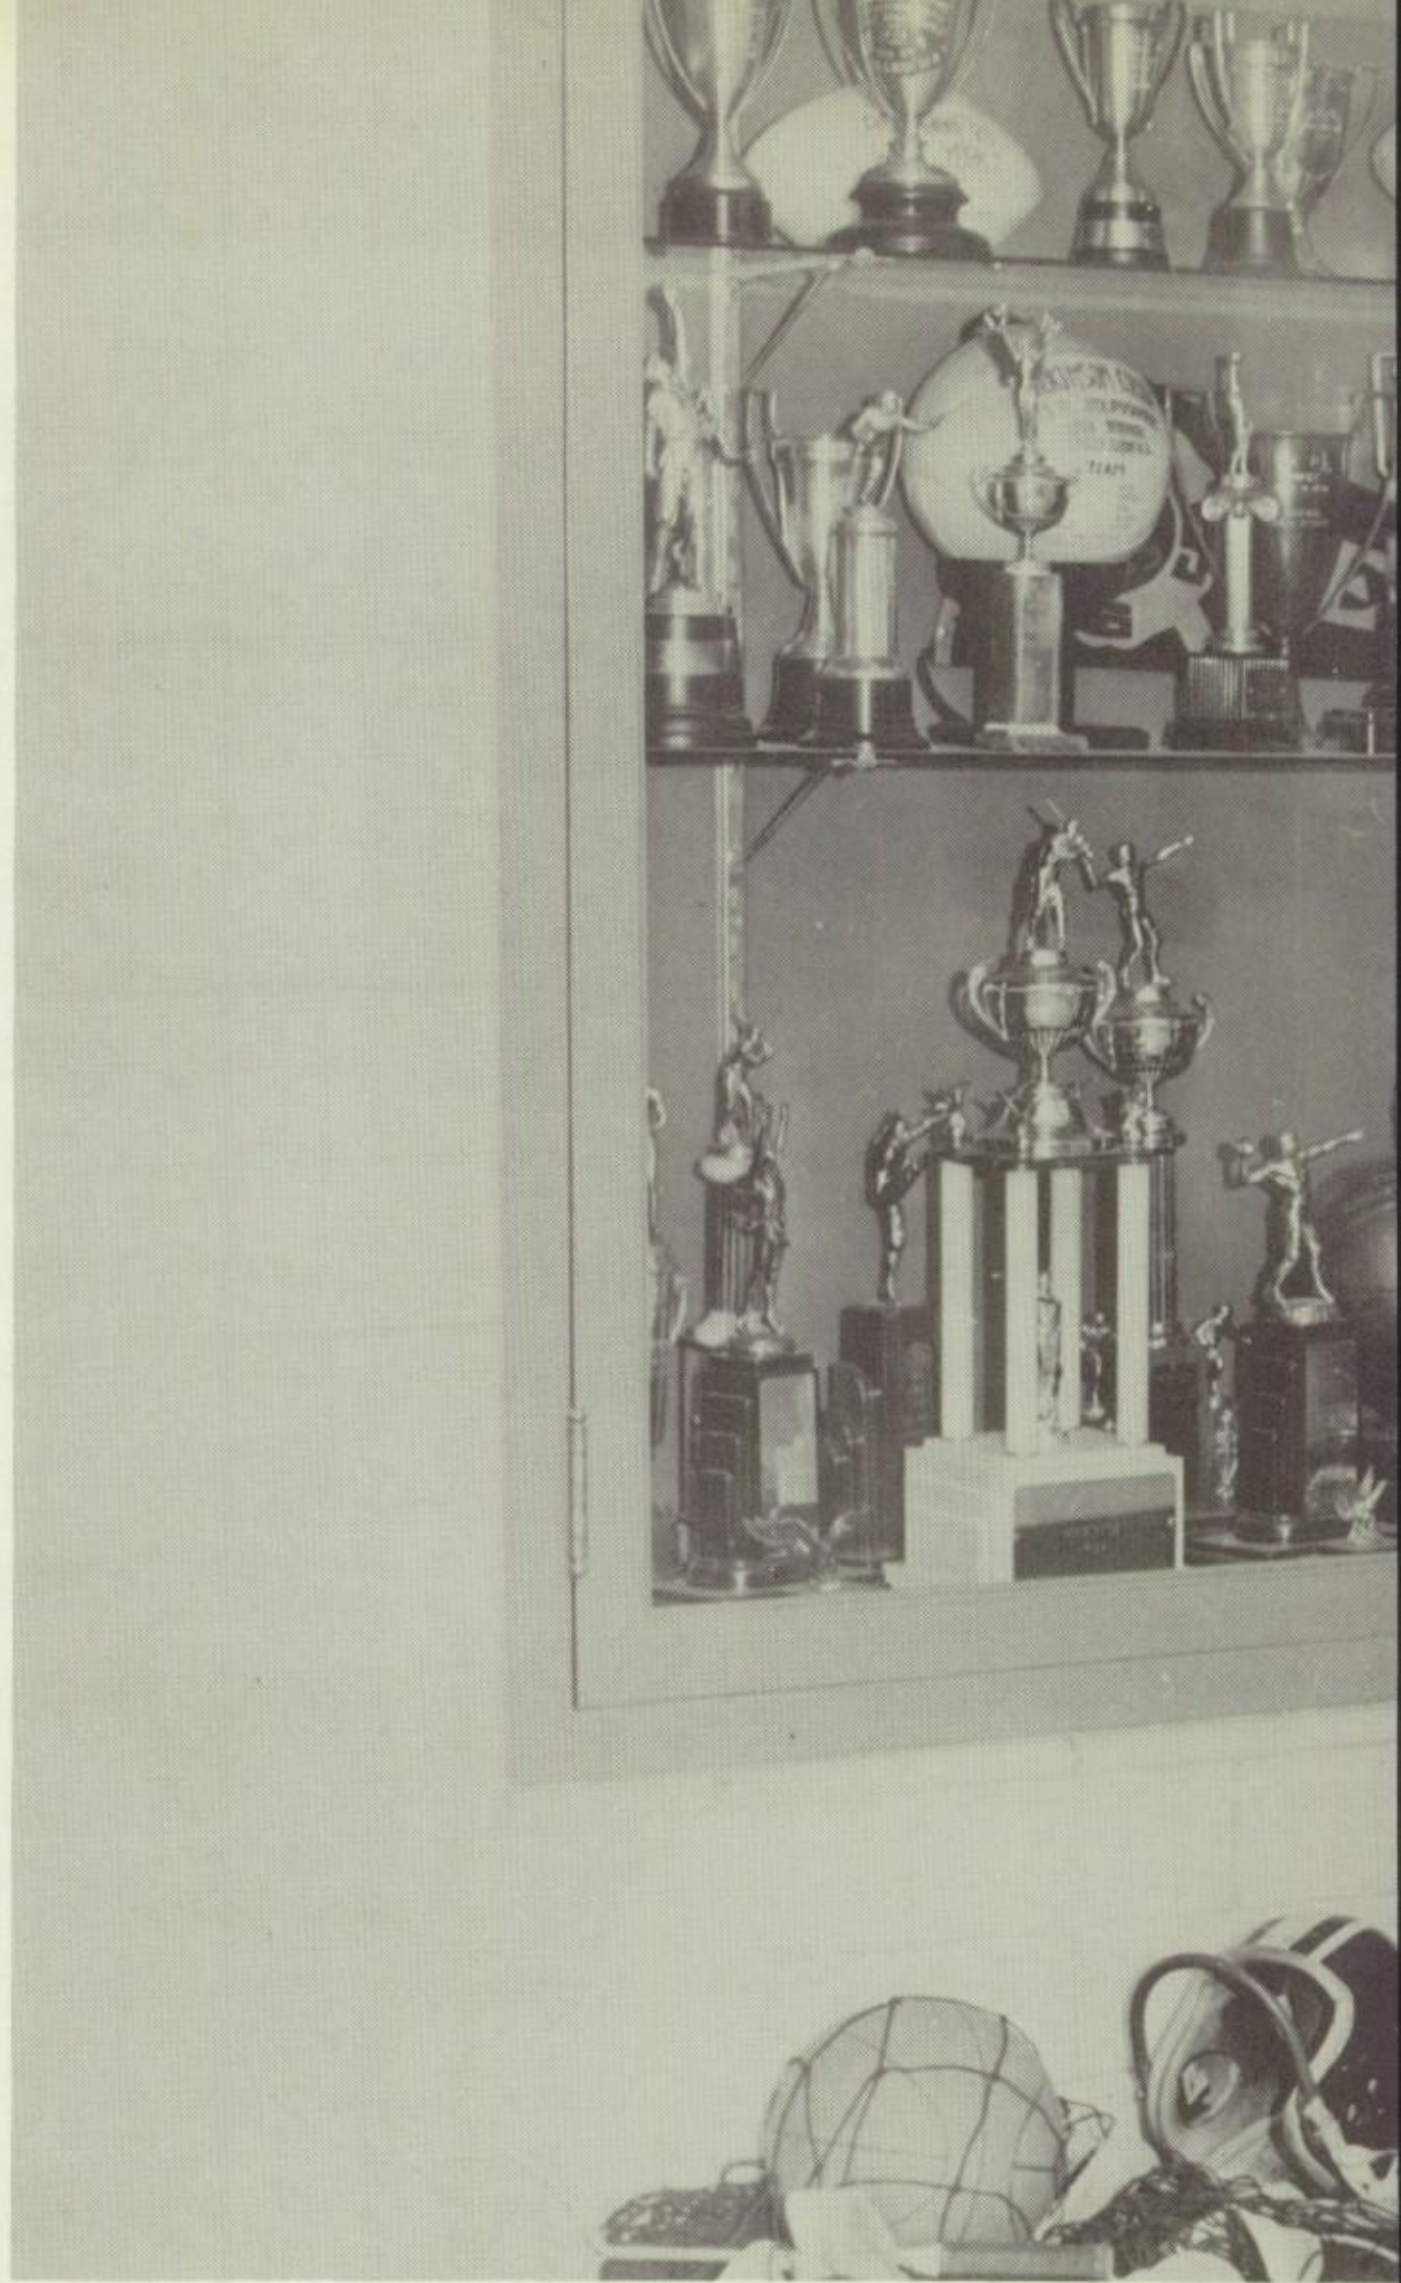

"THE MYSTERY OF THE VACANT ROOM" created this situation, when Lynda Yohe, left, reported the book in a ninth grade English class. Portraying some of the characters in the book are Elizabeth McCullough, Brenda Wells, and Phil Throne.

PONDERING over the wonders of science in a seventh grade science class are David Sprenkle, Nan Sheffer, Kathryn Stein, Linda Leiphart, Bill Flinchbaugh, and Richard Sidoni.

SPORTS

THE SENIOR HIGH cross country runners wait for the starting signal. Right: DERROLL McGINNIS, approaching the finish line, easily wins the senior high run.

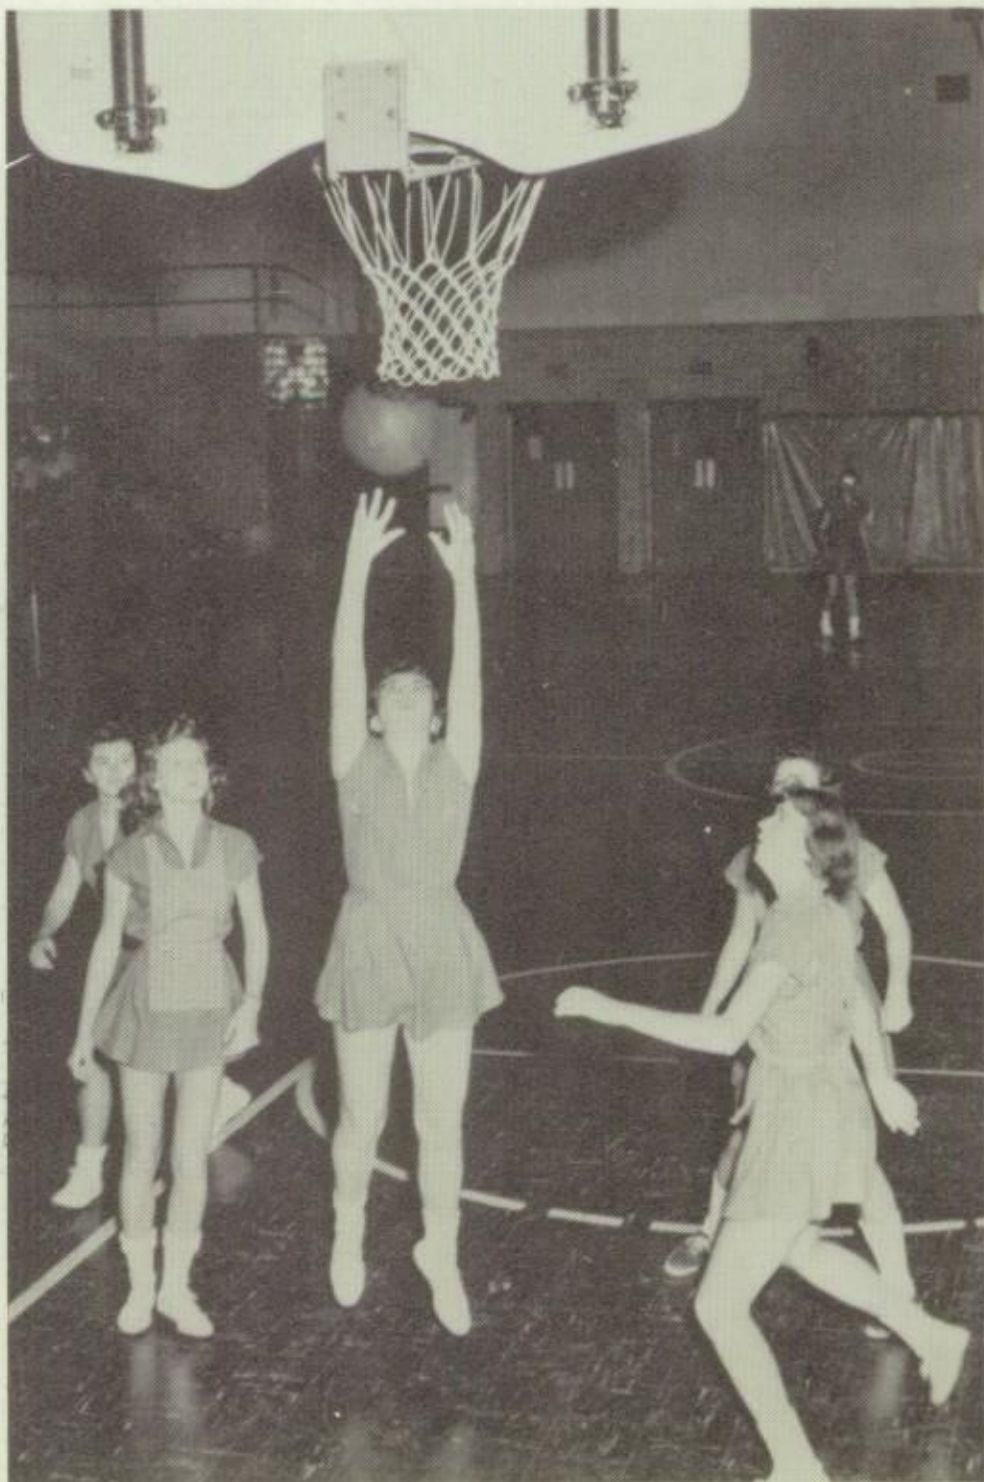

Noontime Sports Contests . . .

A popular event over the noon hour is the INTRAMURAL program consisting of football, basketball, softball, cross country run, and volleyball. Each homeroom enters a team in most of the activities. During the early autumn and late spring months, the games are played over in Fairmount Park. All activities are moved indoors over the winter months. In addition to the sports, the weekly dance session is a big attraction to all the students.

Starting in mid-August, about one hundred FOOTBALL candidates reported for practice twice each day. Sparked by five lettermen, and bolstered by younger football enthusiasts who played in Jay Vee games, the Lions whipped up the old enthusiasm and won the league lid-lifter with Warwick. After dropping contests with Susquehanna and Manheim Townships, Red Lion bounced back to win the interborough classic from Dallastown. The Lions polished off Solanco to keep on the winning trail. Meeting the power of the Conference of Roses, the Lions were defeated by Ephrata, Palmyra, Columbia, and Elizabethtown. Red Lion retained the principals' trophy by defeating its archrival, West York, in the last game of the season. The newly-formed Junior High Squad had an interesting beginning season posting a log of two wins and two losses.

... A Basket, Boys ...

Traveling to the southern part of the county, the Lions snared a close contest from Kennard-Dale to open the season. An ever-improving Red Lion team finished the first half scoring wins over Dover, Spring Grove, and Eastern. The Lions reached their peak by bumping off arch-rival Dallastown in the second half. In the reserve loop, bolstered with a five-game win spree, Red Lion spent the entire season in the first division. On the junior high level, the Lion cagers engineered one of the most successful seasons in recent years by remaining high among the loop leaders.

Junior Band, Junior High Chorus, Orchestra

Providing an instrumental touch are two musical groups, the JUNIOR BAND and the ORCHESTRA. The Junior Band is composed of underclassmen training to become members of the high school Senior Band. The Orchestra, on the other hand, practices for the few but important appearances of the year—National Honor Society induction ceremony and Commencement Exercises.

When the first call comes for students to try out for the JUNIOR HIGH CHORUS, many answer the call, but all are not chosen. Those who show promise have the privilege of working with the group in the preparation of the numbers which will be presented at the annual Night of Music.

Smooth Or Sweet, The Beat Is Neat

DETERMINATION is on director Ward's face as he and Patsy Pitzer, dance band accompanist, check over one of the new arrangements just received for the dance band.

Making up in pep and enthusiasm what it lacks in size, the DANCE BAND swings into action with "Rock Around the Clock." However, these musicians are versatile enough to change the mood quickly to such soothing melodies as "Autumn Leaves" and "September Song," which make for solid dancing. This organization has weekly practice sessions in the evening. Under the direction of the music supervisor, Mr. Ward, the band participated in assembly programs this year and provided many gay and happy hours for those who attended the annual football and Christmas dances.

PUZZLED Sylvia Kinard seems to be asking, "Which one is the snowman?" Happy Jerry Smeltzer looks on in amazement at the Frosty Frolic, the dance band furnishing the music.

Beauty before the band! The fine music and unique marching formations of the band are made much more enjoyable by the dazzling appearance and outstanding ability of the MAJORETTES. Not only at football games but in parades is the band led by these girls whose skill and talent add luster to Red Lion's fine marching unit.

PEPPY MAJORETTES, after performing their routines on the field with the band, just can't keep those feet still when they hear the music during a football game.

Overtures, Marches, and Be-Bop . . .

THE LAST HORN blows are given by the seniors of '56 as they make their final appearance with the band at their annual band concert held at Fairmount Park in May.

Senior Band

... No Problem to Talented Musicians

Braving the cold wind, tramping through the muddy fields, and wearing down the shoe leather, the faithful members of the SENIOR BAND and COLOR GUARD always give an attractive appearance as they march in military style with snappy steps and chins held high. Performing at the football games, pep rallies, Community Halloween and Christmas parades, highlights the marching band's activities. As the concert season makes its debut, the band puts away its marches and digs out some of the more serious music; or tunes are popularized with the rock and roll touches which audiences seem to enjoy. Rounding out a full year, the band gives concerts at the Christmas program, night of music, and finally at Fairmount park in honor of the senior band members.

Color Guard

STATELY AND STRAIGHT, these five fellows make up the color guard which leads the marching band at parades and football games. All seniors, they are Phil Wert, Terry Keesey, Cecil Mundorff, Lowell Anstine, and Bob Shelley.

Harmony, sweet tones, and rhythm ring out as the GIRLS' ENSEMBLE, SENIOR HIGH MIXED CHORUS, and GIRLS' CHORUS practice their many numbers. The Night of Music is the setting for the concert of these three groups each May, and a year of hard work and musical discipline comes to a close. The choruses highlight the musical assembly programs in addition to the ensemble offering special numbers in the churches throughout the year. The reward for work well done is a chorus letter presented to the deserving seniors.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA learn the scientific hows and whys of farming—contour plowing, planting, harvesting, and raising animals. This year Parents' Night was observed at which time the York Chamber of Commerce presented three plaques to members. The Red Lion Chapter placed third at the York Interstate Fair with a large booth exhibit, and several members participated in a "Barn Hay Drying" demonstration at the Pennsylvania Farm Show at Harrisburg.

DAVE GROSS' SPECIALTY is dairy herding, and this particular cow has won many prizes for the production of milk. At ceremonies conducted in conjunction with the Pennsylvania Farm Show, Dave was the first student from R.L.A.H.S. to win the coveted Keystone Farmer Degree. The Degree is awarded on the basis of the recipient's farming program, activities in which he has participated in F.F.A., leadership, and scholastic standings.

F.H.A. GIRLS win prizes at the York Fair. Joanne Gemmill, seated, and Lois Newcomer wear the prize-winning garments which they made.

Cooking, baking, sewing, and homemaking, all are practiced in FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA, one of the oldest clubs of the school. Tempting aromas fill the air around the home economics rooms, and the hum of the sewing machines usually signifies that a new fashion is being created. Learning how to serve food properly and, according to etiquette, how to eat it, keeps these girls on their toes as home economists.

Cheering . . .

A HOT TIME is given to a mock Ephrata football player, at the pep rally, held the night before the game. A group of musicians in the background play the death march.

Full of pep and steam all the time are the girls who make up CHEERLEADING CLUB. They have a workout every Wednesday morning to keep in trim for the Varsity, Junior Varsity, and the Junior High squads. Cheerleaders are always ready, willing, and able to lead the cheers that will boost their respective teams on to victory. In all kinds of weather; at football and basketball games, these vivacious girls add the sparkle, pep, and spirit to inspire the teams to fight to win!

RAIN OR SHINE, our cheerleaders are really on the ball. At the Ephrata game at home, there was plenty of mud, but the cheers were as loud as ever because of the work of the blue-jean-clad squad.

"GET THOSE ARMS UP" shouts the coach, as these girls work out in a weekly cheerleading practice session.

These sportsminded misses highlight the girls' athletic program. After school, on Tuesday and Thursday, these athletic gals exhibit thrilling games of basketball, volleyball, softball, and tennis. No matter what the game, the girls make an effort to display excellent examples of good sportsmanship. The games prove to be as exciting as the fellows'. Sponsoring the annual football dance, taking tickets at the basketball games, and refereeing the girls' intramural games are a few of the many extra activities of the combined GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION.

Lion Staff's Assignment . . .

Buzzing activity is heard daily in that familiar room known as the activity office . . . sketching, writing, proofing, typing, and mounting. Page by page, multiple by multiple, the 1957 Lion took shape. LION STAFF members spent many interesting hours trying to get that page to balance just right or writing clever captions. The knowledge and pleasure received by the staff cannot be shared by others; it is work that must be experienced to be appreciated. When the final pages are completed, the staff anxiously awaits the finished product.

All the Top School News...

A ROSE by any other name, in this case, would still mean a parting gift to well-loved adviser, Mrs. Hollway, the former Miss Farling, after serving as Hilltop adviser for nineteen years.

Energetic journalists spend their time and talents in preparing Red Lion's school newspaper, THE HILLTOP, in cooperation with Miss Keeports, the new advisor. Many hours of hard work, coupled with the enjoyment of writing, bright forth a composite of school news, sporting events and feature pages in the nine issues of the year. Working together, the senior reporters and junior apprentices are out to get the latest happenings of the day.

WHAT could be so interesting as the newest issue of the Hilltop? Here Hilltop Adviser, Miss Keeports, and student writers, Elizabeth Moulton and Louise McGuigan are checking the latest issue, hot off the press.

PAUSING LONG ENOUGH to read one of the Hilltop articles, Feature Editor, James Herman, assisted by Yvonne Warner, finishes folding the month's Hilltops. Later the issues are delivered to the individual homerooms for distribution.

Student Council

Government of the students, by the students, and for the students is exercised by the STUDENT COUNCIL. Each homeroom has a representative in this lawmaking body meeting weekly to discuss the problems and improvements of the school. Student Council sponsored a Sadie Hawkin's "Yokum Valley Jamboree," an official presidential election for any student who had registered to vote, Christmas decorations on the exterior of the school, and a very effective hall patrol which helps to avoid a lot of would-be congestion. Working with open minds, they are always ready to accept suggestions for school improvements.

A MINIATURE voting machine is demonstrated by Mr. Frits to the future voters of Red Lion high school.

TO THE POLLS on November 6, go many of the students to vote in the school's private election for president. The election was run with the same precision as the national event.

"The Phi Beta Kappa of the high school," as the NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY is sometimes called, is regarded by all as a society of high ideals and standards to which membership is greatly desired. The society emblem is proudly worn by its thousands of members. Thirteen seniors were made honorary members of the chapter last year. Ten seniors and eleven juniors were elected this year to unite with those already measuring up to the high ideals scholastically, and who have shown evidence of high character, school and community service, and ability to lead others in a worthy enterprise.

Orientation Day

Approximately 150 excited eighth grade students from the outlying districts made their way to the doors of Red Lion Area High School last May 3. These students were guests of the school at the annual ORIENTATION DAY. The visitors were guided through the entire high school building by members of the National Honor Society. After lunch was served in the cafeteria, a special assembly program was arranged after which each guest had the opportunity to meet with the guidance counselors. An introduction and explanation of the scheduling of courses and extra-curricular activities were given by students and teachers. Through this annual event, these prospective freshmen have an opportunity to see how the high school operates.

For Class Of '56

"Come to the Mardi Gras" resounded throughout the school when the class of '56 presented the CLASS DAY program. All seniors took part in this last contribution . . . entertaining the student body. Every minute was enjoyed from the pirates on through to the crowning of the queen.

Right on the heels of Class Day marched the JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM, the theme being "Cherry Pink and Apple Blossom White." The oriental decorations supplied a background which many nostalgic seniors will long remember.

COMMENCEMENT probably climaxes the happiest years of a senior's life. To the strains of "March of the Peers," 164 graduates left the stage of school days and walked into the life of tomorrow.

Cupid Reigns Supreme

Junior and Senior High Valentine Dances

Cupids and hearts bring to mind the VALENTINE DANCE and the most important question—Who will be crowned royalty? Entertainment and the long-and-anxiously-awaited answer were supplied by the "Valentine Fling" and "Cupid's Carnival," respective junior and senior high heart hops. Traditionally, the new members of the royal family were crowned by those giving up the throne and the right to wear the crown. The dance ends, leaving behind an evening to remember, with everyone wondering already who will be the next year's reigning family of hearts.

REIGNING over the festivities at the junior high Valentine dance, "Valentine Fling," the Prince and Princess of Hearts, Dale Uhler and Louise Workinger, are crowned by last year's royalty, Dale Smith and Joyce Brenneman.

Art Exhibit

Early in the spring, after many hours of hard work, the students' achievements are brought forth in the school's annual ART EXHIBIT. Oil paintings, handiwork, ceramics, modernistic designs and others are on display by all the grades from the kindergarten through twelfth grade. The work is exhibited throughout the school for the general public to view. This year, life-sized circus inhabitants reclined comfortably here and there in the main room while the animals peered through the bars of the parade wagons. All the entries are original and really show what the students are accomplishing in this field.

THE LITTLE ARTIST, Patty Grove, demonstrates her talent and ability which, of course, are the principal ingredients for reaching the ultimate goal—having her art work entered in the exhibit.

Future Rembrandts Display Masterpieces

MAMMA, PAPA, sister, brother . . . all are attracted by the display of artistic ability as they view the handiwork of the students at the annual art exhibit in the cafeteria, second floor hall, and art room.

Holiday Bustle Boosts Spirits

CHRISTMAS time- a time of mistletoe and holly, gay colored lights, and the first snowfall. Energetic students get into the swing of the Christmas spirit by decorating evergreen trees, attending the annual Christmas dance, and taking part in the Christmas assembly. The Yule spirit is enhanced by decorating homerooms; and decorations in the form of a huge illuminated star on top of the school building, and lights on the shrubbery were displayed this year for the first time. Students and teachers alike cherish this beloved holiday season.

Magic Club

THE MAGIC CLUB is fortunate in having as its advisor an expert magician, Mr. Miller, who teaches the basic principles of magic to the members every Thursday morning. Being a member of this club is really fun, but above all, it teaches its members alertness. The advisor performs a trick and then has the club members suggest theories on the method in which it was accomplished. As the year rolls by, it becomes more difficult to keep ahead of the alert group of boys as they become adept in the art of the magic.

Adding a Rollicking Touch

Waltz, anyone? This is a familiar sound, yet it is only one of the dances done weekly by the chic gals of the DANCING CLUB. This club is open to all girls from ninth to twelfth grade. They practice the polka, waltz, fox trot, mambo, and samba and get a taste of modern dances. When a dance is needed for an assembly program, these are the people who are called upon. It is well to keep an eye on these Arthur Murray instructors of tomorrow.

RIPPING IT UP, Vonnie Warner and Katherine Rittenhouse enjoy a rock 'n' roll session in spare time during club period.

Tumbling Club

Flying through the air, the members of the BOYS AND GIRLS TUMBLING CLUBS resemble birds on wing. Some of the highlights of the year for the club are the annual gym review, entertaining in assembly, and presenting a show on Orientation Day. This year, for the first time, the club had the opportunity to work out on a trampoline, doing flips and kneedrops. The club provides good fun and exercise for all who participate.

SUSPENDED in mid-air, Kit Miller seems to be pausing especially for the photographer as he takes a practice dive over a lineup of five fellow club members.

Varsity Club

CO-CAPTAIN for the week, Dave Reichard, a varsity club member, gives a pep talk to the student body in the assembly before the Susquehannock game.

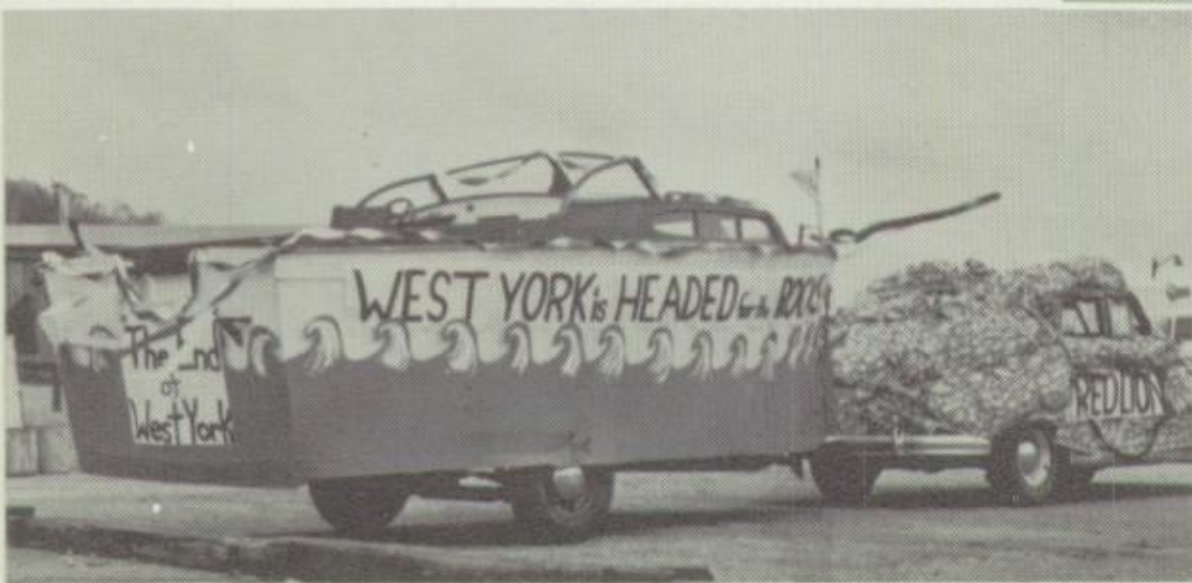

Varsity Men

Twenty-four husky athletes compose the VAR-SITY CLUB. These lions spend club periods discussing sports techniques. They see movies of some of the major teams in practice sessions and of their own games. A general discussion then follows on the ways in which different plays may be improved. The requirement for membership in this club is to have earned a varsity letter in one major sport. All in all, the most important purpose of this club is to promote better sportsmanship.

AN UNUSUAL SPOT in which to find a husky lad like Larry Ward, but the gun shot wound he received during a target practice made him miss the group picture above. Rodgers, Golden, Henshaw and Gross are merely sympathizers.

"Gold and Black, Fight, Fight!" Cheerleaders lead the massive crowd at the WEST YORK PEP RALLY. The annual event, sponsored by the Student Council, is held each year on the night before the big game and offers a climax to the football season. Vieing for honors, each class sponsors a float in the parade. Prizes were awarded to the juniors and freshmen this year. However, to the entire school, victory is the rewarding prize.

Pep Rally Boosts School Spirit

SENIORS

The Class of '57

Seniors

Remembering moments of the four years gone by, the Seniors of '57 pause to reminisce. Here was a class of frolicking freshmen getting into all sorts of trouble. A choice of courses had to be made. Would it be College Preparatory, Commercial, Home Economics, Industrial Arts, General, or Vocational Agriculture? The Sophomore year brought honors to some well-deserving students who were elected to the Latin Honor Society. Excess energy was spent on the float for the pep rally. Juniors...and jolly, too. They presented their first dramatic production to the public, "You Can't Take It With You." Honors were given to those worthy juniors who were inducted into the National Honor Society. Then came the finale, highlighted by "The Form Devine"—the class play, Christmas dance, prom, class day, baccalaureate, and commencement. The sophisticated seniors go tramping forward into the future.

The Class of '57 Presents . . .

Comedy at its best was produced when the class of '57 presented its JUNIOR PLAY, "You Can't Take It With You." The play revolved around the Sycamore family, showing their friends, hobbies, relatives, and romances. Retired Grandpa, lazy Paul, and half-crazy Penelope start the fun going. Aided by Essie and Alice, Ed and Tony, the plot really thickens. The finishing touches were added by the servants, a Russian, a boarder, and the law officers. Everyone who saw the production had an evening of relaxed enjoyment.

... Four Evenings Of Enjoyment

"THE FORM DIVINE" CAST
—Front: Sylvia Kinard, Kathryn Rittenhouse, Roy Wainwright, Nancy Downs, Sandra Gross, Barbara Smeltzer. Second: Claudette Caron, Phyllis Wise, Beryl Russel, Gary Test, Ann Paulhamus, Nancy Paules, Carolyn Stump, Ann Taylor. Third: Glen Miller, Donald Henshaw, Bob Liebhart.

A full house greeted "The Form Divine," SENIOR CLASS PLAY, on November 16 and 17. Glamorizing an ordinary, bedraggled looking and frail woman is quite a task; but the famous school, "Beautiful You," assured that it could be done. Mother decided to take her eight weeks' beauty course but neglected to tell her husband about it and how much it cost. There followed some embarrassing situations. However, a glamorous woman entered the scene, and the audience suddenly realized that Mother was a "new you."

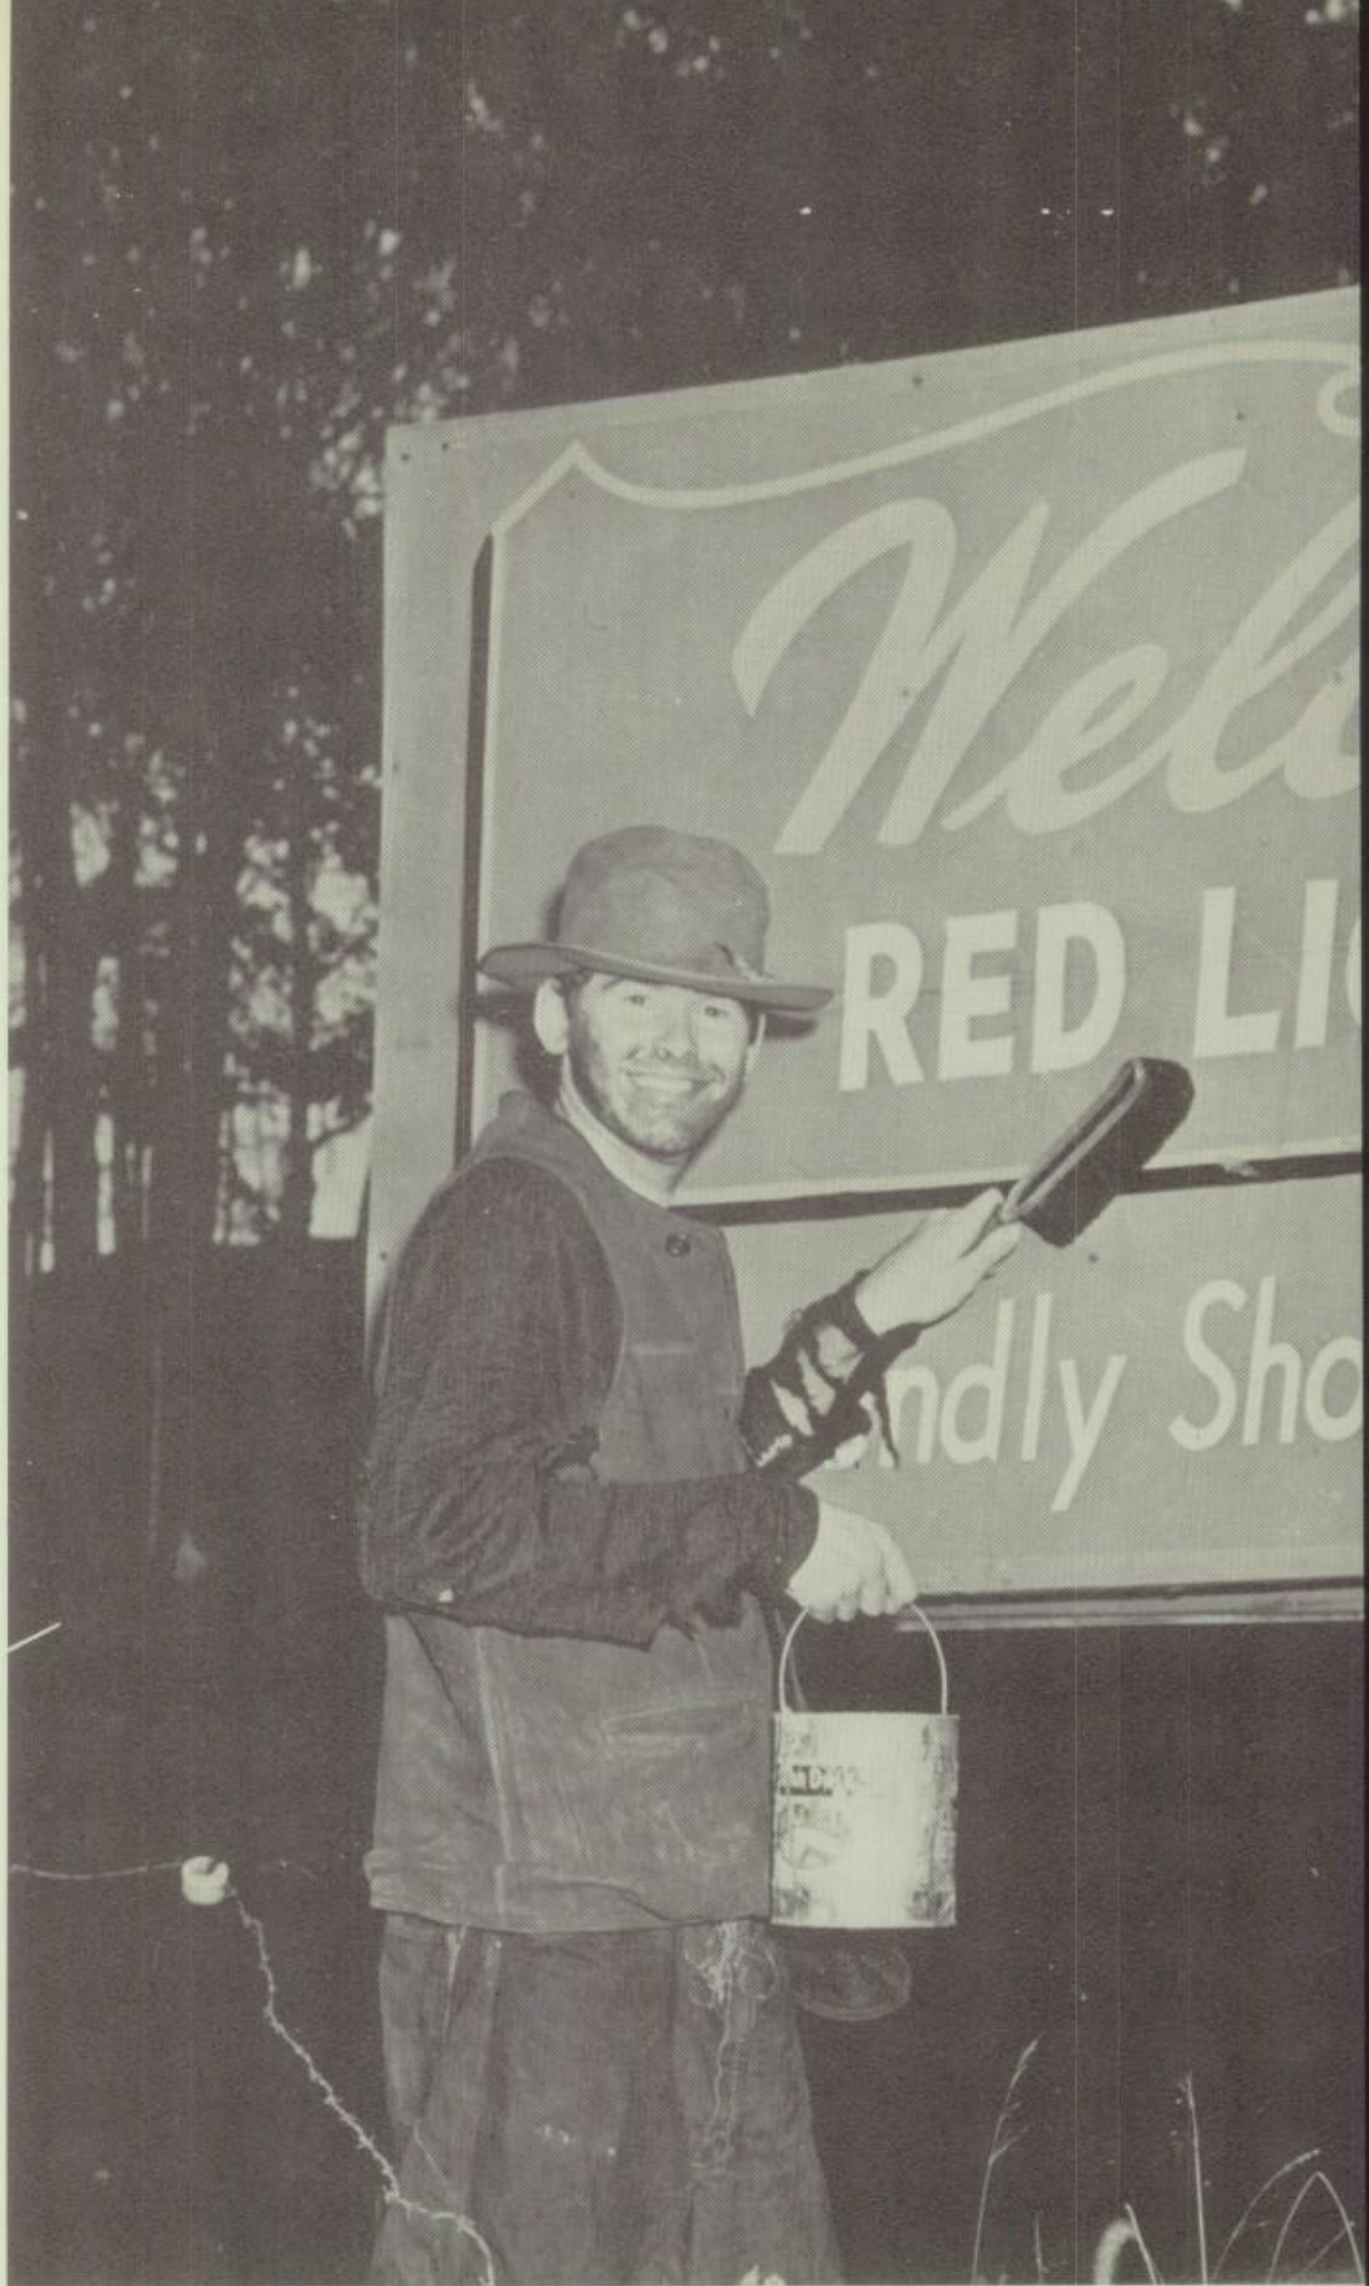

Senior Play

"HEY, YOU'RE GETTIN ME WET!" Gretel uses the seltzer bottle to extinguish the fire in Arthur's throat and stomach.

ARTHUR, Left, is at a loss to know where his underwear is as he complains to his poor wife. Below: "BEAUTIFUL YOU" pupils earnestly practicing exercises and beauty routines in order to be in perfect shape for their graduation.
